

75TH YEAR COMMEMORATION
OF EXECUTIVE ORDER 9066

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF KOREMATSU

Please join Eric K. Yamamoto, the Fred T. Korematsu
Professor of Law and Social Justice at the William S. Richardson School of Law, University of Hawai'i for two very special events this February.

NATIONAL SECURITY AND DEMOCRATIC LIBERTIES:
THE CONTINUING SIGNIFICANCE OF KOREMATSU V. U.S.
THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 23

Korematsu Coram Nobis Lawyers
Dale Minami, Lori Bannai and Eric Yamamoto with Karen Korematsu
11:45 AM - 1:15 PM
William S. Richardson School of Law, Classroom 2
2515 Dole Street, Honolulu, HI 96822
Lunch will be served

KOREMATSU CORAM NOBIS LAWYERS
ROUNDTABLE Q&A AND RECEPTION
FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 24

Dale Minami, Lori Bannai, Eric Yamamoto, and
Leigh-Ann Miyasato with Karen Korematsu
5:30 PM - 7:00 PM
King Kamehameha V Judiciary History Center
417 S. King Street, Honolulu, HI 96813
Limited seating available

For more information, please contact Julie Levine at Julie.Levine@uhfoundation.org, 808.956.8395

Special thanks to the Hawaii State Bar Association-Civic Education Committee, Japanese American Citizens League-Honolulu, William S. Richardson School of Law, Ka Huli Ao Center for Excellence in Native Hawaiian Law, King Kamehameha V Judiciary History Center, Committee for Korematsu Chair, and National Asian Pacific Bar Association (NAPABA)-Hawaii.